PLASTIC SURGERY

At Judith Gurley Plastic Surgery and Medical Spa, Dr. Gurley specializes in making women look like the best versions of themselves. Her passions for art, medicine and science have come together to create human forms through plastic surgery.

This year, Dr. Gurley and her staff are celebrating 10 years of providing individualized surgical and nonsurgical treatments for St. Louis area women.

In recent years, Dr. Gurley has noticed that people are coming to plastic surgeons like her at a much younger age, which makes safe, minimally invasive preventative procedures even more important. Some of these procedures include BOTOX®, fillers, lasers and fat grafting, and are coupled with modern treatments that promote healing, like platelet-rich plasma.

If you're thinking about getting plastic surgery, make sure you find a board-certified plastic surgeon with an excellent safety record. Dr. Gurley recommends looking through hundreds of the surgeons' before-and-after photos to get an idea of the surgeon's style.

"Half of my practice is revision surgery," said Dr. Gurley. "Patients want to change what their previous doctor did, not because what the doctor did was wrong, but because the doctor's idea of beauty didn't align with their own idea of beauty."

Dr. Gurley is also known for her next-level surgical procedures. "I'm able to combine a breast augmentation and a breast lift into one procedure—few plastic surgeons attempt that. I taught myself to figure out this procedure. This way, the patient has only one surgery and one recovery period, which will have them out and enjoying life that much faster."

But it's not just what the surgeon does—it's also how they do it. "We make it a point to spend a lot of time with every patient, educating them and answering questions, anticipating their uncertainties, offering reassurance and following up after the procedure to ensure their recovery is going smoothly."

Dr. Gurley is a member of the American Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgeons, the American Society of Plastic Surgeons, the Association of Women's Surgeons and the American Board of Plastic Surgery, among others. She has been board-certified in plastic surgery for more than 15 years.

Dr. Gurley likes to celebrate women's natural beauty. "Women just want to look like the best versions of themselves, and that's what we do," Dr. Gurley said. "Our motto is 'no one will know, but everyone will notice.'"
